

FREE · THE PROMPT PACK

YOU'VE SAVED ENOUGH. START WRITING IT.

Eleven prompts. Ten minutes a week. One small move.

Once a week

Ten minutes, any notebook, your notes app. Wherever you'll actually do it.

Pick two or three

You don't need all eleven every time. Start with the one that makes you flinch.

Leave with a move

Something you can do before Sunday. Write it down before you close the page.

01

WANT

Write the number. The salary, the savings, the rent you'd happily pay. Don't round down.

02

WANT

Open your camera roll. Find the screenshot you keep going back to. What is it really about?

03

WANT

Describe a Tuesday in the life you want. What time you wake up, what you wear, who texts you first.

04

WANT

Whose life do you check on the most? Write down the one part you actually want. Let the rest go.

05

BECOME

She's already up. What does she do before she checks her phone?

06 BECOME

What does she say no to without explaining herself?

07 BECOME

Look around your room. What wouldn't she keep? Why is it still here?

08 MOVE

What's the twenty-minute version of your dream? Do it before Sunday.

09 MOVE

Finish this sentence and put it in your calendar now: "On ___ at ___, I will ___."

10 MOVE

Who could make this happen faster? Write their name and the one-line message you'd send.

11 PROOF

Screenshot something you did this week that past you would've talked herself out of. That's page one.

STUCK? ASK AI. THEN ANSWER IT YOURSELF.

"Here's what I wrote. Ask me five questions that make it more specific. Don't rewrite anything."
When the dream still feels blurry.

"I keep putting off [the move]. Ask me why, three times, and don't let me off easy."
When you know exactly what to do and still aren't doing it.

"Here's my week. Find me twenty minutes for this."
When "I don't have time" is the whole story.

Leave names, addresses and anything medical or financial out of AI chats.
